Saturday, October 2 to Friday, October 8, 2027

Overview:

Author Tom Wolfe said of New York City: “Culture just seems to be in the air, like part of the weather.” Absorb the art treasures and masterpieces of that culture at five iconic museums:

- The National September 11 Memorial and Museum
- The Museum of Modern Art
- The Metropolitan Museum of Art
- The Whitney Museum of American Art
- The Frick Collection

Our week begins with the 9-11 Memorial and Museum, inviting visitors to experience the profound sense of place, and how the people and events of that historic day are remembered and honored. Explore the MoMA, often called the most important museum dedicated to modern art in the world today, boasting works by Dalí, Monet, Picasso, van Gogh and Warhol. Discover The Met, a museum that is to New York what the Louvre is to Paris with collections spanning from Ancient Rome and Egypt to the Renaissance and beyond. Visit the art collection of Henry Clay Frick showcasing works by El Greco, Rembrandt and Vermeer. Enjoy work by leading-edge American artists at the Whitney, showcasing the works of living artists, often before they are well known elsewhere.
